ARTHUR ACCEPTS ANDERSON'S DEFI San Carlos Project

The challenge of Mr. Anderson, the crestler, which appeared in the Review a few days ago, has been taken up by Paul Arthur, who recently came here from Michigan. He is employed as a miner, the same occupaon which now holds Anderson, and fers to wrestle the later at 165 ounds, his mat weight, any style at is agreeable to both parties.

Arthur was some time ago matched o wrestle "Roughy" Richards, but Roughy" did not appear at the Ortime Richards has not been heard slip-up is expected.

Arthur did considerable wrestling Entertains Friends in Michigan before coming west and is considered a clever man.It is believed he should prove a good opponent for Anderson, whose class is already known to local followers of the Anderson will be unable to wrestle for a week or two, however, as he had his left hand mashed recently by falling rock in the mine where he is employed. The match will probably not be pulled off until the middle of

Garfield Takes Hand In Conservation Movement

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 29 .- Following closely in the wake of Senator Aldrich's currency campaign in the middle west the announcement is made of another educational tour it behalf of the conservation policies o President Roosevelt. Mr. Garfield's first appearance will be before the American Civic association of Cinciunati on December 16. He will talk on the "Conservation of Public Lands," It is possible that the old conservation row will be opened before the end of Garfield's speaking tour. The next address will be before the student body of Wisconsin state university at Madison. His theme will be "Conservation of National Resources." On the following evening he will appear before the merchants of Milwaukee, Later he will appear before the Nobraska State Bar association. He has chosen as his subject "Executive Power and the Public Interest," His closing address will be before the Oklahoma state teachers' association at Chinhoma City. He will talk on CI-13 Service and the Roosevelt administration.

Although former Secretary Garfield asserts this series of addresses has to direct bearing upon the current controversy over the afleged breach Roosevelt's conservation program, it followed his refusal to comment ipon the last statement of Secretary Ballinger, that he had "not reversed he Roosevelt-Garfie'd policies, but that he "had done what Mr. Garfie" himself had done."

"I cannot talk of the matter until have seen the entire statement made by Mr. Ballinger, and I have sent to Washington for such a copy. said the former secretary today.

39 More to Sell Today

The immense cost business done in the Women's Garment Section yesterday (Monday), shows a record of selling exactly 27 of these splendid conts—There's a reason for it. Yes, the weather was in our favor, but it was not the weather alone that caused this immense selling of Women's Coata. The cold span made the women feel the absolute necessity of warmer outer garments, naturally, they hurried to the place where values were greatest. The excellent fabrics, fine talloring and extreme of the 27 women who purchased these coats, not one falled to comment upon the exceptional values offered. One woman said that she had atwarded it many sales in the larger cities, but never had she seen garments of equal quality offered at ordinary garments that usually sell for this price, but regular $17.50, $18.50 and $20.00 values. The wide range of materials makes choosing easy. Included are fine broadcloths in black and colors. Scotch cheviots and tweeds in stripes and mixed patterns. Kerseys in black, tan and castor, and plain and fancy coverts in semi and fitted tayles, 45 and 50 inch lengths. We do not think it possible to find any where else at the price, the equivalent of these coats in distinctiveness of fabrics, models or finish: $17,50, $18.50 and
